Seb's Halloween Carnival

Halloween is right around the corner. On Halloween day from 10 am to 4 pm there will be a Halloween carnival to help raise money for Seb's recreational center. This center is for people with special needs, their families, and their caregivers.

The carnival will be here at Aurora Frontier. There will be many different activities including arts and crafts, games, media area, massage, drawings, tournaments, costume contest, and live performances. You will need tickets to do everything except for performances and the costume contest. Tickets will be on sale here at Aurora Frontier before and after school. If you buy your tickets early there will be a deal. Pre-Sale deals include 12 tickets costing 5 dollars, 24 tickets costing 10 dollars, and 40 tickets costing 17 dollars. If you don't buy your tickets early 12 tickets will cost 6 dollars, 24 tickets will cost 12 dollars, and 40 will cost 20 dollars.

Events will cost anywhere from 1-10 tickets. Don't forget to wear your costumes because a prize will be given to best costume. This carnival will help raise money for Seb's Recreation Center. Please help raise money for this great cause and come to this awesome carnival!

Cameliosa

By: Caleb

Once upon a time, long long ago on this very land before there was a school, a little girl named Cameliosa lived in a cabin with her mother. They had no neighbors and were very lonely, and on their free time they cooked. However, one time the cooking went wrong. There was a fire. Cameliosa managed to escape from the tiny cabin, but her mother couldn't.

Cameliosa cried with fear, "Mom! Mother!!! Noooooo!!!"

Ever since that day, Cameliosa has been scared, for she had lost all she had. She turned from a sweet girl into a savage, spending the next twenty years in the burnt down house. Cameliosa lived off of her fingernails and drank her pee to survive, and for dessert she ate the burnt parts of the house and occasionally parts of her feet.

Every day Cameliosa lost her sanity more and more. She began to have imaginary friends, had imaginary parties, and ate imaginary food. At one of her parties, her best (imaginary) friend had an idea. She wanted to pull a prank on her brother and wanted Cameliosa's help. She wanted Cameliosa to pretend to hang herself. With no surprise, Cameliosa agreed. She took a rope tied it into a slip knot and put it on her neck. Then, she closed her eyes and pretended to be dead. The next thing she knew she couldn't breathe, someone had pushed her off of the chair she was standing on so she could breathe. Her heart beat faster and faster.

The last words she heard was, "Hahahahaha...Hahahahaha...HAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA! AHHHHHHHHH!" In a slow little girl's voice.

No one found her for the next fifty years. She was discovered as the new school, Aurora Frontier K-8, was being built. When the workers found her, they didn't care, they just demolished the whole area and burnt her body. What they didn't know was that she was watching them and that she became very, very angry. She made a promise to herself that she will haunt the building forever.

When the school was finished, the teachers began to add tables to their rooms. It seemed like a pleasant, and easy task, but Cameliosa wanted her revenge. One of the teachers, whose name no one knows, was decorating her room when something strange happened. The lights shut off, and the doors slammed. Then, a marker the color of blood levitated and began to write on the whiteboard I'm coming...hahahahaha it wrote. The teacher then passed out, and died of an unknown cause. Cameliosa still roams the school today.

Halloween Treats

By Michelle V, Savannah D, Ashley

Get into the Halloween spirit with 4 easy Halloween treats that you can make for a great party or for your family and friends. Here are the treats and recipes.

Dragon's Blood Punch

To make this Dragon's Blood Punch you will need:

- 1 (46-ounce) can of red punch (recommended: Hawaiian Punch)
- 1 (46-ounce) can of apple juice
- 1 (48-ounce) bottle of cranberry juice
- 1 (2-liter) bottle of ginger ale
- Ice cubes

Directions:

Mix all the ingredients together and you have a perfect drink for Halloween!

2. Witch Hat Cookies

To make these quick and simple Witch Hat Cookies you will need:

- 32 Hershey chocolate kisses, unwrapped
- 1 (11 1/2 ounce) package fudge striped shortbread cookies
- 1 (4 1/4 ounce) container of orange decorating icing or 1 (4 1/4 ounce) container of red decorating icing

Directions:

Attach one kiss to chocolate bottom of each cookie, using decorating icing.

Then, Pipe decorating icing around the base of the Hershey Kiss and you're done!

3. Pumpkin Cheese Ball

To make this Pumpkin Cheese Ball you will need:

1. 16 ounces of room-temperature cream cheese
2. 1 1/2 cups of shredded cheddar
3. 3 tablespoons of minced onion
4. 2 tablespoons of salsa
5. 2 teaspoons of ground cumin
6. 1 teaspoon of minced jalapeno

Directions:

With a mixer, blend all ingredients. Scoop onto plastic wrap and use the wrap to form the mixture into a 5-inch pumpkin-shaped ball; chill for at least 2 hours. To serve, unwrap, roll in crushed nacho-flavored tortilla chips and press a bell pepper stem into the top.

4. Strawberry Ghosts

To make these Strawberry Ghosts you will need:

1. 30 fresh strawberries
2. 8 ounces of white baking chocolate, chopped
3. 1 teaspoon of shortening
4. 1/8 teaspoon of almond extract
5. 1/4 cup of miniature semisweet chocolate chips

Directions:

Wash strawberries and gently pat them with paper towels until completely dry. In a microwave-safe bowl, melt white chocolate and shortening in the microwave for 10 second intervals at 50% power; stir until smooth. Stir in extract. Dip strawberries in chocolate mixture; place on a waxed paper-lined baking sheet, allowing excess chocolate to form the ghosts' tails. Immediately press chocolate chips into coating for eyes. Freeze for 5 minutes. In microwave, melt remaining chocolate chips; stir until smooth. Dip a toothpick into the melted chocolate and draw a mouth on each ghost. Refrigerate leftovers. Yield: 2-1/2 dozen

Scariest Story Ever

By: Sarah S & Mercedes C.

Draped in my overcoat, I pounded my feet on the snowy sidewalk.

Crunching leaves under my feet, a two ton bag slung over my shoulders, and a patch of ice coming up.

I - the genius that I am, and for what reason I'm not sure- decided to slide across the ice. The moment my sneaker came down upon the clear walk my knees buckled.

I layed in the snow until the sun was sitting on the horizon.

I kicked at it, again, again. I picked myself up but left my bag of bricks behind me. Shadows creeped behind buildings, dark figures danced across the chemically pink clouds. I was closing into the place

I call home -back to the creatures that wait for me. I am ready to feast on their souls.

I took the door handle, the icy winds sent a chill down my spine.

I searched and searched, not able to find it.

Drawer after drawer, shelf after shelf, side door.

I fell to the floor in defeat, but I will soon come to terms with my new found knowledge.

What I'm about to tell you next you will be in tears over-

The last slice of pizza, was gone.

Halloween

Once there was a seven year old boy that went by the name Ace. He always dreamed and thought and soon saw a monster under his bed, in the beginning of October.. His parents would always assure him that there was no such things as monsters. But he knew that monsters exist, his friends told him stories about them, and there are books in the library that talked about monsters. Every time he went to bed he always heard nails scratching, feet stomping, and growling noises. He told his friends about it and they believed him.

So, the next day he came home and looked under his bed to find nothing there, he was ready to face the monster under his bed. He sighed and heard the door closed behind him. He turned around frightened and saw a blue, big eyed monster. The monster had a confused look on his face he asked "Do you not like me?"

The boy was so shocked that he didn't know how to answer the monster. The monster actually looked friendly and nice. The monster had a bunch of blue fur and pink horns, mouth, and a staff with a skull on the top. And had a black eye patch over his right eye.

He finally overcame his composure and answered, "I'm sorry but yes, you keep on scaring me, that's not very nice." The little boy replied. The monster looked back at the boy and started doing the hokey pokey dance. "My name is Jinx," the monster said. "I'm Ace, ". After that day, the monster and boy became friends. They played every day, until Halloween.

Halloween night was very chilly and the wind didn't help with the coldness. They went trick or treating together. It was a lot of fun they got so much candy. When they went back home they divided their candy. However Jinx had told Ace that he had to go away. "All the monsters only come during October and leave for all the other months,"

Jinx said.

Ace was very sad to hear this. "I know you're disappointed but I'll be back next year, I promise," Jinx said. Ace smiled back and gave him a hug, a tear rolled down his cheek. When Ace woke up the next day, Jinx wasn't there. Ace looked under his bed to find a colorful drawing of Jinx and himself holding bags of candy. With I Will Miss You Ace written in colorful handwriting at the top of the paper. Ace smiled and said to himself, "I will miss you too Jinx, see you next year."

Scary

By: Madeline, Davis and Nina

A little girl named Melenye was murdered 10 years ago in the school that now haunts at night. One Halloween night, a little boy named Kaylib was wandering around at the school.

I was at my grandma's house down the street when I couldn't sleep. Like any other kid would, who wouldn't want to go to the school at midnight? As I walked up to the back door, I realized the door was unlocked. I opened the door. CREEEK! As I started to wander around the building my body started to feel heavy and my breathing got harder. I thought I was hallucinating. I turned around and there, right there by the door, she was standing. A dark shape — no, a dim shape, fuzzy in those few seconds of vision, my eyes are not quite certain if they were focusing on the door or the thing in front of it. Pale arms outstretched and raised towards me. Hollow eyes black against a pallid face, and a mouth that opened as if to speak, it said something but I couldn't hear it. I heard the click coming behind me. Later on, the lights kept flashing on and off. And in a blink it was gone. "What?" I shouted, "Come out y-y-you, you whatever you are!" ~ No response. "Yeah thats right you scaredy cat," I saw a single flash I saw the figure again... It looked like someone I knew... It was Melenye. I knew she was after me, but I wasn't sure why. Maybe because I killed her

Really Cheesy Scary Story!

By:Curtis S,Sonny T

T'was the night before Halloween , and all throughout the house everyone was scared because of all of the shouts. When everything was quiet they could hear the mouse squeak trying to get the cheese. One Halloween party is about to become less cheesy. At a Halloween party in the Aurora area, the guests hear a scream. The guests run to the scene and realize that there was no more cheese dip. The guests start to panic and all chaos breaks loose throughout the city. The aggravated people break into Halloween parties and search for the all mighty cheesy dip. Eventually the people found the dip but they realized there is no more tortilla chips. All of the guests became dangerous monsters and went searching for more dip and justice of their snacking dilemma. Afterwards the guests started to play for all the hours of the night. The people partied so much that their brains melted to cheese and they ate everyone in the world.

When Strangers Call

A Scary Story by Judd B.

I never wanted to be there, I never wanted to watch cartoons until midnight then get minimum wage. I never wanted to risk my life for kids I didn't even know. I never want to do this again.

I was at home doing my homework when the phone rang, mom answered it. "The Hendersons want you to babysit tonight Tess!" She yelled from the bottom of the stairs.

No way, I just got out of a relationship!

Long story short, I ended up going. The Henderson's house was isolated from town, the only way to get through to anyone was through a phone. Few hours passed before the kids were in bed and I was reading in the living room, the phone rang "Hey Tess, I'm really sorry but we blew out a tire and won't be back until dawn." Mrs.Henderson said. I was stuck there with no car, no mobile phone, no protection. "It's okay, can you tell me what street you're on?" I asked, she replied with a road that left town "Oh we're on Maine Street, we'll sleep in the car then in the morning walk home to call a cab for you."

The first call came ten minutes after that, "Be sure to leave the doors unlocked, I'll be there in a couple hours." He hung up. I had no clue who it was but I profiled it as a prank call.

He called again after 20 minutes... This was no prank. "About an hour and forty." I was nervous, I couldn't hear anyone else giggling in the background, I heard cars. I decided to wake up the kids and bring them downstairs to be safe.

"Why'd you bring us down here Tess?" asked one of the two. "Oh I just got a bad feeling in my gut and thought I'd bring you down here." I tried my best to keep them calm.

Half an hour passed and he called again, "Good news! Traffic isn't so bad and I'll be there in 30 minutes." I didn't know what to do, should I run into the woods or take my chances there? I decided to stay there, there was no way he could get in right? Questions buzzed around in my head.

27 minutes had passed, I decided to get the police to track his call this time. He called, "You look beautiful... Tess!" He knew my name! I immediately called the police, "Get out of there! He's calling from inside the house!" I dropped the phone just in time to see a shadow with knife start down the stairs. I took the kids and ran to the back door and saw just in time to see one of the kids trip, but I kept running. The screams I heard, the blood.

The cops came and arrested him, he was found guilty for murder and was sentenced life in prison. I still hear the screams when I try to sleep, I see the blood when I try to eat. I know I will be put in Hell for what I did, and the kid who died will be waiting for me.
